YOUR BIG DAY WEDDING PARTNERS

You're Engaged! And now armed with your Google-sourced checklist, you start planning your wedding by finalising your budget, choosing your colour scheme, selecting your venue, sending out invitations and the list goes on... And in this world of Do-It-Yourself culture and economic downturns, you may see this as a great way to keep your wedding expenses down by contacting your own suppliers and making all the advance arrangements.

Here's what you may not realise until it's too late - the full responsibility for co-ordinating the wedding day itself falls solely on you and your honey and your family members who often have little or no experience in this area.

Avoid the Hassle! Hire a Day of Wedding Co-ordinator and save yourself Time, Money and Stress!

Here are five (5 reasons) why!

YOUR BIG DAY WEDDING PARTNERS

1. SAVE TIME – One of the biggest regrets often expressed by bridal couples is that they didn't get the chance to enjoy the full wedding experience because of the multiple details they had to remember in the final weeks before their wedding day. Planning a Wedding requires dedicated time, patience, organisational skills, diplomacy in dealing with both sides of the family, budgeting skills and the list goes on...

Keeping on top of everything that needs to be done, when it needs to be done and who needs to do it (while holding down your full-time day job) can be stressful, nerve-wracking and downright exhausting.

2. SAVE YOURSELF WEDDING DAY STRESS –

Picture this: You are in the midst of getting your hair and makeup done on the morning of your wedding while vendors keep ringing down your phone while they are setting up at the venue.

This is a huge reason why hiring a Day of Wedding Co-ordinator saves you stress and allows you to sit back relax and enjoy getting dressed for your BIG DAY.

3. SAVE MONEY – Having a Day of Wedding Co-ordinator assist you in the final weeks before your wedding means that they can look over the contracts made with your vendors and ensure that you are getting the best bang for your buck and that all the contractual arrangements made are completely structured to your maximum benefit.

The Co-ordinator also provides on-site overview of load in, décor and load out of the venue to limit any mishaps and violations that may cause you to forfeit the venue deposit, They are the usually the first to arrive and the last to leave after everyone has danced the night away, that way ensuring that your interest is secured until the very last minute

4. SAVES DISAPPOINTMENT – Sadly it happens way too often that couples are disappointed by family and friends who initially offer to help out at the wedding.

Many a bride can attest to being let down by well-meaning or delinquent relatives who did not help out as expected due to either lack of experience or their focus on enjoying the food, drinks and party music on the dance floor!

5. SAVES FAMILY RELATIONS – The saying "When two become one", also refers to the families of both partners and this can sometimes be stressful for the bridal couple who have to try and satisfy the desires of both sets of relatives. Having a Co-ordinator on board usually provides a calming neutral voice who can negotiate with both sides and come to a mutual agreement.
